PART FIVE
Guide, Index of Concepts and Terms

'Ten Principles of the IRCP Vanguard Communist Party' - Part of the theory of the International Universalism. Principles which guide all of the activities of the IRCP party arose from selected and enriched and improved methods from the historical experience of the international communist movement. Consist of the following concepts:

1) The 'Aim High' is a concept based on the following practices: Self - Education / Cultivation / Examination, Self - Discipline and Self - Criticism of IRCP party members due to Maoist, Gonzalo Thought and Juche idea with Songun politics experiences. It expects of every IRCP party member self - effort to shape himself to be well - read in the learning process and well - disciplined.

According to the concept of 'Aim High' the style of party work of all IRCP members, is to work in a revolutionary spirit full of passion and aspirations, and to be guided by the principles of honesty in the spirit of serving people with devotion to the cause of revolution and setting a personal example, by impeccable conduct and a militant approach in the cause of class struggle, strive to achieve high ethical qualities worthy of a true communist and lead a righteous and honest life in accordance with the ideals of communist morality.

The 'Aim High' is a concept of personal aspiration of every member of the IRCP party and ambition to become a true communist party activist, that is, such an activist who - fully performing his party duties - through study and consistent self - discipline and militant attitude, has achieved a high degree of class consciousness with revolutionary outlook and leads an impeccable life according to the principles of communist morality, is actively participate in the life of the IRCP party and actively influences its environment for the achievement of revolutionary goals and tasks.

The 'Aim High' is a concept as a task to do for every IRCP party member to revolutionise himself and making better organized, skilled and disciplined for strengthening and developing class struggle to achieve party goals with great militant and fighting efficiency. According to this principle, the upbringing of an IRCP member is the upbringing of an active fighter for the revolution. Full of vigour strong will that always and everywhere sticks to principles of communist morality and wages a tireless fight against all incorrigibles ideas and actions both on the battlefield against revisionism and in the class struggle against the bourgeoisie.

2) The 'Mass Line and Mass Tied' is a concept of strictly bonding with the working class and popular masses in all activities of the IRCP party.

'Mass Line and Mass Tied' is universal organizing method for all of members of the IRCP party to learn and follow and it is a fundamental and inviolable law of complete trust and reliance on the masses as the popular masses are only the correct makers of history and have motive force to change the history.

The Mass Line principle is acting as a two - stage action consisting of the method 'From the Masses, To the Masses' and method of 'Unite the Advanced. Bring up the Intermediate, and win over the Backwards'.

The first stage of action of such Marxist tool of Mass Line is 'From the masses to the Masses' - the IRCP party members go into popular masses and conduct surveys, ask questions, and do social investigations. It expects the IRCP party members close and attentive listening to the masses, combined with constant contact with the masses to absorb all incorrect, scattered, eclectic and unsystematic ideas from the masses and bring them back to the IRCP party forum in order to systematize and correct it to the Internationalist Universalism with its five component sources of Marxism - Leninism - Maoism, Juche Philosophy and Songun Politics, Gonzalo Thought, Anti - Revisionism and Anti - Imperialism, and then, as a result of IRCP party ideological work at every level, international, national and regional, make the development of concrete plans such as International, National and Regional Revolutionary Strategy with IRCP Basic Party Commune Action Plan.

'Unite the Advanced. Bring up the Intermediate, and Win over the Backwards' - is the second stage of the action of use the Mass Line tool and characterises the process during which the IRCP party maintain all the ideas and opinions of the masses that are grasped and gathered as a result of social investigation, are categorized into three categories. The first category of ideas are advanced, which are closest and most correct in them generally meaning International Universalism, so if these ideas are generally revolutionary progressive and not revisionist, democratic ideas also to be willing around them. The second category is ideas intermediate so, these ideas contain some advanced and progressive trends but also some backwards ideas mixed up with them. The third stage of grasped during the social investigation are ideas definitely backwards. These ideas have reactionary, regressive, undemocratic and revisionist content and expression.

The practical use of the two stages of the principle Mass Line is the concept of 'From the Masses, To the Masses' and 'Unite the Advanced. Bring up the Intermediate, and Win over the Backwards' and in the process of organizing the masses, it is guiding this process in such a way that unites the advanced ideas, brings up the intermediate and win over the backwards wrong ideas or isolate definitely backwards and clearly counter - revolutionary and harmful ideas if winning over these backwards ideas is not possible.

The process of categorising ideas grasped from the masses must be remembered that the three categories in reality are fluid. It is because the class struggle progresses constitute the categories constantly change just as the class consciousness of the masses changes from backwards to more developed into intermediate and advanced and in the back way over. So the skilful conduct of the practical application of the 'Mass Line' principle by the IRCP party relies on being able to flexibly adapt the method of 'Unite the Advanced. Bring up the Intermediate, and Win over the Backwards' in reference to changes objective conditions of the masses and their circumstances.

Working with people according to the principle 'Mass Line and Mass Tied' is the essence of the work of the IRCP. The methods of the Mass Line principle (Graphic Diagram 7.), and the Two Lines Struggle (Graphic Diagram 6.) are the most advanced revolutionary communist practice which are radically democratic and vibrant ways in order to organise masses to class revolutionary struggles by the IRCP party. It solves all problems in the class struggle that arise and affects the level of the party's bond with the masses for which the party serves by organizing the revolutionary struggle. During practice implementing of the principle of the Mass Line and Mass Tied some of the mistakes could arise as such Commandism or Tailism (see Index of Concepts and Terms page 41 and 45), which must be corrected.

Adhering firmly to the principle of Mass Line and Mass Tied the mental power of the masses is constructively used for revolutionary benefits, By practice of the principle 'Mass Line and Mass Tied' the IRCP party, always follows the correct path to action, because the ideological principles of Internationalist Universalism are a reliable guardian of categorizing ideas from the masses and correcting them into correctness with maintaining an unwavering and constant bond between the party and the masses.

According to this principle as such Marxist and Maoist theory of knowledge, it is the fundamental duty of each IRCP party ranks, to listen attentively to the voice of the masses of the people. The public opinion of the peoples masses must never be ignored or disregarded, it is the duty to know it and react appropriately to everything that happens in the process of the revolutionary struggle. Every time of use the Mass Line method by the two stages of action in the complementary each other way, the International, National and Regional Revolutionary Strategy with IRCP Basic Party Commune Action Plan as a result of grasped and systematized ideas of the masses, are more richer, more correct and more vital in the essence and more suited to the of the popular masses.

The IRCP party is constantly checking the level of bonding to the masses, the correctness of use Mass Line principle by Four Checks and Four Improvements.

3) The 'Two Lines Struggle and Unanimity' is a concept characterises a true communist party based on Maoist experiences. The purpose and task of emphasizing and paying special attention to the role and importance of Two Lines Struggle in the activities of the IRCP party.

The struggle between the two lines in the IRCP party (Black Right incorrect line and Red Left correct line) allows the development and defence of the correct direction in accordance with the principles of Internationalist Universalism, based on Marxism - Leninism - Maoism against the influence and attacks of bourgeois ideology and any kinds of opportunism, revisionism. According to the party's basic line, building the IRCP party must be connected with the struggle between the proletariat and the bourgeoisie, between the socialist way and the capitalist way, strengthening with consolidation of all the party ranks around the Central Party Activists (Hard Core Party Seniors), and perseverance in continuing revolutionary tasks under the centralized party commands. In a complex class struggle, the IRCP party must be good at distinguishing and dealing with the two proper types of contradictions as between the IRCP party ranks and the enemy and between people. In the complex class struggle that the IRCP party is waging, in the fight against revisionism both inside and outside the IRCP party, the party must be flawless in properly distinguishing and dealing with the two types of contradictions.

The purpose of the Two Lines Struggle in the IRCP party is not 'reconciliation' with the Black line of right - wing opportunists and all kinds of intraparty revisionism which can arise in the process of class struggle. The goal is to emphasize the class struggle and recognize the of correct Red Left line and, in the words of Mao Zedong, 'bring the struggle to the level of the line' and on this basis to more thoroughly criticize, reject and combat the Black Right line of the right - wing opportunists. The tool of the struggle conducted by the correct, Left Red correct line with the opportunist - revisionist Black Right incorrect line in a Two Lines Struggle is primarily criticism and self - criticism, internal party discussion with intra - party discipline and mass agitation with propaganda actions as part of the practical implementation of methods of Agitate from the Study - Agitate - Organize principle.

In the IRCP party activity in the practical application of the principle of the Two Lines Struggle, it is important to distinguish that in the IRCP party the struggle against hostile opportunistic elements and groups is the main and principled struggle.

In the class struggle, in the struggle between the two opposing lines of the Left Red correct line and Right Black incorrect line, two zones are distinguished. The separation line is and it divides the struggle into external and internal (the 'internal party zone of struggle' and the 'external party zone of struggle'). The 'internal party zone of struggle' is a struggle against manifestations of revisionism, sectarianism and any deviation from the correct ideological party line within the party itself and is conducted by the methods of the Mass Line principle.

The principle of Two Lines Struggle in the practice of the operation of the 'external party zone of struggle' outer specifically is an anti - revisionist struggle outside the party. This is an objective phenomenon, because the objective phenomena of anti - Marxist and revisionist - opportunist trends and concepts are independent of party activities, are still taking place in the international communist movement and it is impossible to stop them. Therefore, the practice is expressed in maintaining revolutionary vigilance, defining and denying revisionist, anti - Marxist trends and in an active stance in combating revisionism in the international communist movement and prevention in opposing the influence of the Right Black incorrect line on the correct Left Red correct line through varieties kinds of actions of capitalist, anti - Marxist, revisionists and other attempts to break the unity of IRCP party and anti - communist attacks and threats. This is the consistently revolutionary and firm position of the IRCP party, against all manifestations of opportunism and revisionist trends that strike at the monolithic party system from the outside. There are been and will always be present in the area of the battle of the international communist movement. It is primarily a struggle on the ideological front, supported by political and organizational means, and consists in unmasking and overthrowing anti - Marxist and revisionist trends outside the party, and keeping them isolated from the fortress party as much as possible.

Much more important in the principle of the Two Lines Struggle is the struggle conducted in the 'internal party zone of struggle'. It is a subjective struggle. It is a struggle conducted in defence, implementation and enrichment, in the fervour of revolutionary action of one correct line (Left Red correct line) in accordance with the program and ideological principles of the party based on Internationalist Universalism. It is a struggle between two paths rather than lines, and in this sense the struggle between opposing political trends and their influences by the Right Black incorrect line from the outside of the IRCP party. The class struggle within the IRCP party is a reflection of the class contradictions which exist and the class struggle which goes on in society. The IRCP party members are also susceptible to old bourgeois concepts, customs and habits carried by the social environment in which they lived or live.

It is a subjective phenomenon that emerges and develops only under certain conditions, when a party allows factional tendencies and anti - Marxist lines to arise within its ranks. All these opposing tendencies and revisionist currents must be extracted and separated, crystallized by the process of the practical application of the principle of the Mass Line. Within Two Lines Struggle, there are contradictions, and incompatibilities between the views, standpoints and opinions of IRCP party members.

Among IRCP party members we have those individuals who have a correct and high level of class consciousness and faithfully follow the party's ideological and political line, and those whose class consciousness and ideological level is on a poor, insufficient level with weak revolutionary spirit and who are more or less influenced by bourgeois influences, petty - bourgeois and revisionist outsiders from 'external party zone of struggle' who keep returning to unregulated ideas and errors.

The Two Lines Struggle in the 'internal party zone of struggle' consists in the clash of opinions and views, in the skilful conduct of the party leadership and party members following the Left Red correct line with those members of the IRCP party, who are involved in the process of creating party policy and its political line, and who represent a poorer level of the class consciousness and weak ideological - political level characterized by deficiencies and in which there are still tendencies of bourgeois thought, the influence of liberalism and idealism from outside the party from bourgeois society - and therefore the influence of the Black Right incorrect line.

This is done through the Mass Line method of collecting these unregulated ideas and concepts and then extracting those that are backwards and intermediate and grouping them into three types (advanced, intermediate and backwards), subjected to the process of correction through internal party discussions, opinions, debates, criticism and self - criticism of their authors to convince them and unite with the correct ideological and political line. This is done at all levels of IRCP intra - party democracy and their meetings with discussions. It is a process in which the Left Red correct line represented by party members following to the correct knowledge and ideology of Internationalist Universalism in the process of intra - party democracy still struggles with trends that are unregulated and inconsistent with the Black Right incorrect line represented by backward individuals.

Therefore, it is a process to overcome this opportunistic line through party discussion, criticism and self - criticism. It is a method of dealing with the inevitable contradictions within the party and winning them over for the unification and strengthening of the party. It is also of educational importance in raising the awareness of party members to a higher level. the emergence and crystallization of erroneous, opportunistic trends and lines within the party itself, in the inner sphere, is natural and inevitable. It cannot be stopped, but it can be skillfully directed for the development and strengthening of the entire party. To harden the party in the class struggle and prevent the crystallization of factional, revisionist tendencies opposed to politics and the adopted program.

Through this process, gives the opportunity to present even erroneous ideas and concepts within the IRCP party. Due to the fact that the IRCP party is not afraid of internal discussion, the Left Red correct line is strengthened, to win over those who hesitate at the intermediate level and win them over to the right path, not to be rejected and suppressed by administrative methods or commanding. Thanks to this, those who have wrong ideas within the IRCP party can develop and raise their class consciousness along with correcting their ideological level.

Thanks to the practice of Two Lines Struggle, the IRCP party maintains the correct revolutionary political line and the correct revolutionary ideological line of the party, thus combating all manifestations of revisionism, and also takes care of the correct organization of the party focused in unity for the implementation of revolutionary goals and tasks.

Thanks to using principle of the Two Lines Struggle, the IRCP party members who have wrong ideas and incorrect views, can develop into right ideas and unify with the correct IRCP party political - ideological line. However, if they constantly keep the same position and their consciousness is not developing into the Left Red correct line and they still wavering and follow to the influences from outside party Black Right incorrect line, the last solution that the IRCP party can use if such a situation takes place in the process of using the Two Lines Struggle principle in an internal party discussion, when there are still backward elements that cannot be corrected in the process of persuasion, criticism and self - criticism and are openly elements that break the unity of the party, constantly standing on opportunist and anti - Marxist positions, is a preventive fight expressed in blocking all paths leading to the danger of factionalism and sectarianism and the rooting of the trend of an opportunist - revisionist. One must then cut off the roots and sources of factions and opposing lines and all enemies and enemy activities in the 'internal party zone of struggle' with decisive action. In this case, the IRCP party acts with particular ruthlessness, manifesting its revolutionary, decisive and consistent stance against any attempts to break up ideological unity.

This can be done by expulsion from the party, which is preceded by admonitions and a system of party punishments and reprimands. In the understanding and practical application of the principle of Two Lines Struggle by the IRCP party, it is not just that just a clash where divergent ideas clash and the result is expulsion from the party all of the members who has different view and idea. But it is a process where is unity of various from of struggle to win them over by putting an effort to correct them to raise communist consciousness for more development in the right Left Red correct line, with understanding and gives a chance to correct - their incorrect stands by criticism and self criticism - and patient explanation with ideological and educational work on their level, and after win over bring back and unify into monolithic ideological model not just expel from party. Errors, weaknesses, and deviations of members within the IRCP party must be detected and combated in time by revolutionary methods.

'Unanimity' is the concept of entire unity and consistency. Consistency of thought of all of the party bodies as expanded principle of the democratic centralism from Marxism - Leninism - Maoism enriched by experiences of Juche idea and Songun politics. 'Unanimity' is the principle thanks to which the party achieves the highest degree of ideological and organizational cohesion of the party ranks and the unity of ideas and will of these ranks in the performance of party tasks in the class struggle. The 'Unanimity' principle governing IRCP party members in their activities to be the consistency of word and action, transformation of revolutionary will into an effective force, revolutionary courage, devotion, spirit of sacrifice, love for comrades and characteristics of revolutionary brotherhood in arms. The 'Unanimity' principle demands a high level of organization and discipline all IRCP party bodies.

4) The 'Do - or - Die' is a concept of keeping the active revolutionary work of the party on the basic party organizations - the Basic Party Communes of the IRCP, gathering all its members with revolutionary fervour and self - sacrifice spirit. It is the principle of the ruthless performance of party tasks with full dedication in the spirit of the revolutionary struggle of IRCP members. 'Do - or - Die' is a form such a permanent attitude of an IRCP member, that he will not be afraid of making any kind of sacrifices for the sake of the victory of the revolution. So being truly communist, raised by the IRCP, not to be afraid of anything. What's more, the IRCP party will toughen up its members to do this if necessary to challenge death itself and carry our life on tiptoe so that we can give it whenever revolution demands it. This is because communists carry out revolutions not at anyone's order or for anyone's pleasure. The IRCP party communists, brought up by the 'Do - or - Die' principle, carry out the revolution according to their own unwavering conviction, in the name of the liberation not only of the working class of their country but of the whole world. The principle of 'Do - or - Die' in revolutionary struggle, it is unwavering faith and devotion to the cause of revolution.

The 'Do - or - Die' principle should unite the actions of each IRCP party member in the personal sacrifice in the revolutionary struggle, which guarantees the effectiveness of the fight for the programmatic goals of the IRCP party and also does not allow for the violation of its ideological, political and organizational unity. The 'Do - or - Die' principle expects high degree of the ideological character of an IRCP party member is based on genuine and credible knowledge of the party's own ideology, its program and political line. It is the identification of a party member with the principles of ideology, readiness to present and disseminate them, and courage to stand up for them even when it is not easy and popular and requires sacrifice and sacrifice. The test of a high degree of idealism is fidelity to the proclaimed truths and principles of communist morality, as well as revolutionary vigilance confirmed by a personal example.

Enthusiasm and determination in constantly raising his ideological and moral level make the member of the IRCP a revolutionary communist and a fighter of the vanguard of the proletariat, faithful to the cause of communism until the end, steadfast in the face of enemies, difficulties, obstacles and sacrifices, determined to implement the party's political line at all costs. The 'Do - or - Die' principle is also realized in forging the steadfast and intransigent character of the communist - fighter in the ideological and political preparation of candidates for the party at the stage of intra - party training. The 'Do - or - Die' principle combined with the 'Aim High' principle ensures a high moral, political and ideological level of the IRCP party members, who stand out in performing the assigned party political and social tasks, in a revolutionary attitude and behaviour in the place of their professional work, in society and in the family. The 'Do - or - Die' principle is a test of militancy and fortitude of the revolutionary spirit in testing IRCP members in hard work on the difficult fronts of revolutionary struggle, in revolutionary activity, in class struggle, etc. The revolutionary spirit forged through the principle of 'Do - or - Die' is a strong ideological armament of all members of the IRCP party, so that in any situation, uniting as a monolith around the IRCP party, they fight with determination and militancy for the cause of revolution. It is a principle that is instilled in all communists brought up in the IRCP party that the interests and causes of the revolution are the highest law for which it is worth sacrificing everything.

5) The 'Ideology and Politics First' is a concept directed for giving decisive priority to political and ideological work over all undertakings in the revolutionary activity of the IRCP. The practical application of the principle 'Ideology and Politics First' consists in carrying task to raise the banner of our ideology of Internationalist Universalism, defending it in every aspect and making it a shield against revisionist confusion, to use it in the ideological struggle and fight vigorously to lead and direct the world revolution.

Prioritizing political work is an issue to which the IRCP party pays special attention and thanks to which the party ranks raise its revolutionary enthusiasm and creative power of the masses and their ideological fortitude.

The IRCP party pays special attention to the proper conduct of political work among the masses so that, as a result of this work, the masses of the people themselves are mobilized to carry out revolutionary tasks in a spirit of militancy and dedication to the cause of the revolution. IRCP party is an effective way to teach the masses the correct political ideas which is raising their consciousness.

The 'Ideology and Politics First' is the principle which guides internal IRCP party life in practice by conduct intensive political work, in the political and ideological field through the party training system for candidates to be IRCP members organized in IRCP Internal Training - Candidate Course and IRCP Periodic Party Training for all IRCP members. The IRCP party training system is part of the implementation of this principle. The long - term and continuous activity undertaken by all bodies at every level of the IRCP party, and the emphasis on the priority of ideological and political work for the party ranks, help both senior party cadres and rank members to always correctly understand the requirements of the time and moment in the class struggle and to walk among masses in the correct light of the positive experiences of Marxism - Leninism - Maoism, concentrated in internationalist universalism in the implementation of revolutionary tasks. Based on the principles of internationalist universalism and giving priority to ideological - political work, the IRCP is guided in the revolutionary struggle in a scientific and creative way to adapt to the objective realities and concrete conditions of the masses and to create a revolutionary tide and raise the class struggle to a higher level.

6) The 'Concentric Construction of the IRCP party' is a concept to build the structure of the IRCP party the example taken from Gonzalo Thought improved and expanded which responds to the terms of waging 'People's Civil War' of the European and provides suitable organizational form to other capitalist countries.

The organizational and ideological structure of the IRCP is a structure of 'concentric circles' based on the experience of the Communist Party of Peru, but not reflecting it in a faithful copy, modified and improved for the purposes of revolutionary struggle in the conditions of capitalist European countries, and enabling the use of the methods of the original theory of the Peoples Civil War developed by the IRCP.

The 'Concentric Construction of the IRCP party' structure, is a structure which in the form of conventional cyclical circles expresses the outside conspiratorial nature of the IRCP party. Each circle is another organizational unit of the IRCP party starting with the highest grouped in three mutually overlapping circles of the Secretariat the Central Revolutionary Committee, IRCP International Party Commune and IRCP Central Party Control Commission. Three overlapping circles express in the middle of a common field, is the improved concept of Jefatura from the Gonzalo Thought and is a concept of party leadership, where this leadership is collectively represented by the group of the Central Party Activists (Hard Core Party Seniors), from Secretariat of the Central Revolutionary Committee who are reconciled members with others in the IRCP International Party Commune and also IRCP Central Party Control Commission. The collegiality of leadership is expressed in jointly making central decisions of the highest importance and highest responsibility for the whole IRCP party. Therefore, this central structure of the IRCP party with the revolutionary hardcore is conspiratorially protected by surrounding it with this protection expressed by the IRCP National Revolutionary Committees each country where IRCP is active, and the next organizational unit of the IRCP party organizational level of the national area of the IRCP revolutionary activities, which is the IRCP Regional Revolutionary Committees. The Regional Revolutionary Committees protect the last organizational unit of the IRCP party which are IRCP Basic Party Commune with local Party Activists and lead together with members of the IRCP Basic Party Commune engages to the revolutionary class struggle in Red Zones outside the party.

'Concentric Construction of the IRCP party' and its unique structure ensures conspiracy and protection of internal central party organs by external ones. It is also a kind of fortitude which provides security and solid resistance against all attempts to break up the organizational and ideological unity of the IRCP party ranks. Concentric Construction of the IRCP party' in the ideological struggle of the Two Lines Struggle ('internal party zone of struggle' and 'external party zone of struggle'), ensures an unshakable attitude of unification and ideological monolith of all organizational levels of the party ranks centred and unified strongly in ideological and organizational around the party leadership of the Central Party Activists (Hard Core Party Seniors) and protect them by conspirational methods. 'Concentric Construction' of the Internationalist Revolutionary Communist Party is shown in Graphic Diagram 10.

7) The 'Anti - Revisionist and Anti - Imperialist Approach' ;

The 'Anti - Revisionist Approach' is a concept to kept of active ideological struggle and strictly linked to one of the ideological components of Internationalism Universalism. This principle presupposes an active and militant attitude of all party members in defense of the purity of the Marxist - Leninist - Maoist ideology along with the Juche Philosophy and Songun politics, and in defence of the achievements and great importance of Gonzalo Thought.

The 'Anti - Revisionist Approach' is the attitude of IRCP party members and it is a special sensitivity in the revolutionary struggle to all currents of opportunism. The only truly communists like the members of the IRCP party have to be faithful to the revolutionary cause and defend the purity and values of Marxism - Leninism - Maoism and Juche idea with Songun politics. It is also task to defend the purity and anti - revisionist line of Gonzalo Thought.

In the activities of the IRCP party in the practical application of the 'Anti - Revisionist Approach' principle, it must be distinguished that in the IRCP party the struggle against hostile opportunistic elements and groups is a principled struggle. This struggle is divided into external and internal. The anti - revisionist struggle externally is expressed in maintaining revolutionary vigilance and an active attitude in combating revisionism in the international communist movement. The internal struggle is a struggle against manifestations of revisionism, sectarianism and any deviation from the party line within the party itself and is conducted by the methods of the 'Two Lines Struggle' principle.

The harmful revisionist currents are created by the bourgeois and especially the petty - bourgeois classes and are the main ingredient of modern revisionism whose present - day centres are in China. Modern revisionism is actively combated by ideological correctness and correct dialectical application of practice that grew out of a non - dogmatic and progressive understanding of the principles of Marxism - Leninism - Maoism in action under the direction of principle 'Ideology and Politics First' and 'Aim High'.

This attitude guides active defence efforts in the ideological field of the international class struggle. The 'Anti - Revisionist Approach' is attitude of IRCP party members it is expressed in the unmasking and active struggle, criticising with militancy attitude against all manifestations of 'dogmatism', 'ultra - leftism', 'sectarianism', 'nationalism', 'sycophancy', 'splittism' and other and other perversions of old and modern revisionism from international communist movement. It is an approach based on opposition to reformism, parliamentarianism and the illusion of peaceful transformation in cooperation with bourgeois political forces with them ideologies as social democracy presented by 'bourgeois workers parties' as well. The active and militant attitude of a revolutionary to combat all anti - Marxist manifestations with ideological subversion and to expose revisionist attitudes and tendencies in the international working class movement is an inseparable condition for fighting on the ideological front, which is also an important element of the global class struggle on the international arena. A true communist with a revolutionary spirit brought up by the IRCP party, has the duty to see and fight every figure and kind of revisionism, tirelessly and relentlessly.

The 'Anti - Imperialist Approach' is a concept that mobilizes IRCP party members to actively struggle against any kind of world imperialist domination. The 'Anti - Imperialist Approach' is based on the best examples and historical experience of the Korean anti - Japanese struggle and past and present struggles against US imperialism as well as opposition and struggle against other new world imperialisms like social imperialism in China and in Russia. What is the attitude to imperialism as a phenomenon of the present times in the development of capitalism, mainly American imperialism, but not only - is an important test of a position consistent with Marxism - Leninism - Maoism, and thus a non - revisionist position. The true communists of the true revolutionary communist party that is the IRCP party, always maintain an unwavering principled position against all forms of imperialism which is characterized not only by militarism as is characteristic of US imperialism, but above all by the exploitation of the international working class by economic capital of the nature of corporations and multinational companies, supranational. Therefore, the 'Anti - Imperialist Approach' principle is a firm and militant position, consistent with Leninism and its correct interpretation of world imperialism in its various types, including Chinese and Russian social imperialism.

Therefore, whether a party calling itself 'communist' is really communist and revolutionary determines its attitude towards imperialism, and not just US imperialism. It is a kind of touchstone that distinguishes a revolutionary position from an opportunistic one, and proletarian internationalism from a revisionist deviation.

The IRCP party is operating in conditions, where many countries and regions of the world are under the domination of imperialism. The aggressive and predatory nature of imperialism has not changed. It is still a big exploiter and a big threat to world peace. Imperialism is the main and fundamental obstacle to progress in the world. Social change cannot be achieved without opposing imperialism as imperialism, particularly US imperialism is opposed to social change. The US imperialists are particularly anti - communist and are a vicious enemy of any communist movement anywhere in the world.

Any genuinely progressive or independent government will sooner or later face US attempts to subvert it or remove it. The USA has carried out hundreds of coups and even military interventions. The US also dominates media networks and practices 'information imperialism'.

American imperialism is the main opponent of the struggle of the anti-imperialist IRCP party. The IRCP party, through its activity in the international arena, mobilizes broad anti - imperialist forces and focuses them on the fight against US imperialism and social - imperialism of China and Russia. The way of anti - imperialist struggle is the only way to defend world peace.

All imperialists will oppose any attempt to achieve social progress by striking at the roots of imperialism. For example any government that tried to nationalize imperialist enterprises would incur the wrath of imperialist powers for and face overthrow for example Mosaddegh in Iran, Arbenz in Guatemala and Allende in Chile.

The IRCP party position is that in order to build a new society, a new world, free from exploitation, oppression, subordination and domination, communists and revolutionaries must fight to the bitter end against imperialism.

Imperialism must be fought without compromise. There should be no illusions about imperialism. It is a fatal illusion to think that there can be co - operation or compromise with imperialism.

It is an important internationalist task of a truly communist revolutionary party as IRCP is, to support all national liberation and independence struggle. Within imperialist countries such as the UK it is important to support the right of self - determination for oppressed nations.

Undoubtedly the highest form of struggle against imperialism is the armed struggle. Countries such as Korea, Vietnam, Cuba, Laos, Algeria and many countries only gained independence through armed struggle. The IRCP party, implementing the principle of the 'Anti - Imperialist Approach', serves the interests of the international communist movement by taking the position to play a pioneering and guideline role in the revolutionary ranks of the world anti - imperialist struggle. The anti - imperialist struggle is the creation of an anti - imperialist front and the specific tasks in this struggle. However, there may be many forms of struggle against imperialism; legal, illegal, peaceful or violent, open or secret but the fundamental thing is to fight imperialism without compromise. These methods must be considered and applied by IRCP party authorities.

Each country has its own conditions and each situation is different, so it is important that each IRCP National Revolutionary Committee adopts the tactics appropriate to the situation in the anti - imperialist struggle. The tactics must be appropriate to specific country conditions and situations each country as skillfully developed in the IRCP National Revolutionary Strategy, but also consistent with the overall IRCP International Revolutionary Strategy.

8) The 'Democratic Centralism' is a concept as understood by the IRCP party that is appropriate to the working class - its class situation, its interest and social experience of class struggle - a form of democracy in the party.

Democratic Centralism in the internal life of the IRCP ensures its unity in every socio - political situation and at every stage of the revolutionary struggle. It is an ideological, political and organizational unity. Ideological unity in Democratic Centralism is the unified understanding of the basic class interests expressed by the IRCP party and the agreement of all members' beliefs on the basic ways of realizing these interests. The political unity provided by the principle of Democratic Centralism in the IRCP party is the unity of action, the subordination of the minority to the will of the majority, and the links of the lower IRCP bodies to the higher. Organizational unity in the Democratic Centralism used in the IRCP party, is also a strong discipline of party members as well as a strong position and disposition of the central authorities of the IRCP Central Revolutionary Committee with its Secretariat as well as the national and regional authorities of the IRCP Regional and National Revolutionary Committees and the correct organization of the revolutionary struggle in accordance with the principles of Internationalist Universalism.

Democratic Centralism is the basic regulator of the functioning of the IRCP party, both as a whole and each of its constituent parts. It therefore also applies to the internal relations of every party organization at every level. The principle of Democratic Centralism in conjunction with other principles from the 'Ten Principles of the IRCP Vanguard Communist Party' allows for skilful association of the development of initiative, activity, discussion and independence of action of the member, masses and all party organizations of the IRCP Basic Party Communes with uniform, disciplined action of the entire party in one direction adopted as a majority resolution, and expressed in the adopted program and political line developed in the IRCP International, National and Regional Revolutionary Strategy, detailed in specific tasks with IRCP Basic Party Commune Work and Action Plan.

Democratic Centralism in the IRCP party should be understood as the unity of democracy and centralism in their dialectical relationship, not as the sum of centralism and democracy. In this dialectic relationship, democracy is essential for expressing the will of all party members and making decisions consistent with the conviction of the majority, and centralism for ensuring the implementation of these decisions, for effective united action. Democratic Centralism consists of several rules. The first is the democratic principle that 'all party resolutions shall be adopted by majority vote' and that 'all party leadership from the lowest to the highest shall be democratically elected'. According to this principle, the superior authority of the IRCP Basic Party Commune is the IRCP Party Monthly Meeting and in this matter, it is the general meeting of its members, which adopts major resolutions by voting by a majority of votes and elects its executive authority (Secretary and Deputy), which within its scope of activity adopts resolutions together with the members of the IRCP Basic Party Commune also by a majority of votes. The subordination of the IRCP Basic Party Commune to the superior of IRCP Regional, then National to Central Revolutionary Committee is also based on this principle of the democratic principle.

The second principle of Democratic Centralism is the principle of double subordination, which means, on the one hand, the responsibility and subordination of all the leading instances of the party to the organizations that elected them in a democratic manner, and the obligation to report to them on their activities, and on the other hand - the subordination of the minority to the majority, including the lower authorities - to the higher authorities.

The third principle of Democratic Centralism is the principle of equal party discipline for all members and party organization at every level. This principle means that every member of the IRCP party has the same rights and obligations, that all members are equal in this respect, and that the minority that voted against a given resolution is obliged to carry out the resolution after it is passed, as are the majority that passed it.

It is related to the fourth principle of Democratic Centralism, the principle of unity of action and freedom of discussion and criticism as a condition for the development of conscious party discipline. The meaning of this principle is that it recognizes the freedom of creative discussion and criticism as a condition for the unity of the party and the dynamism of internal party life.

According to this principle, every member of the IRCP party has the right to appeal in defence of his position to the higher party authority, up to and including Regional, National and Central Congress of the IRCP. Of course, the discussion conducted by the members of the IRCP must, of course, take place within the limits of ideological and statutory principles. Its aim should always be to strengthen and not to undermine party unity. Party discussion rules govern the methods of applying the Mass Line and Two Lines Struggle rules. Party democracy, however, must not be abused for purposes contrary to the interests of the IRCP party.

The fifth principle of Democratic Centralism is the principle of transparency of internal information, this principle imposes on all IRCP party organizations at every level the obligation to provide comprehensive and reliable information within the IRCP party itself, both 'top' to 'down' and 'bottom' to 'up'. This is a condition for both strengthening internal party democracy (as there is no democracy without proper information), as well as centralism and discipline. The condition for the accuracy and successful implementation of resolutions of higher party instances is their being based on reliable 'bottom - up' information and their knowledge by all party organizations at every level. The sixth principle of Democratic Centralism is, the right of each organization and party authority to independently adopt resolutions on matters relating to its territory and the right to submit motions and initiatives on general matters to higher authorities. This is the principle of the autonomy of IRCP party organizations. This principle makes it possible to combine centralism with bottom - up initiative, unity and discipline of the IRCP party operation with freedom of discussion and the activity of each organisation of the IRCP party in shaping its political line. The IRCP 'Party Statute' also formulates the limits of this right, which stipulates that resolutions of IRCP party organizations at any level, may not be contrary to the general line of the IRCP party and resolutions of higher party authorities. A party organization at any level in the IRCP, that does not respect these boundaries, whose activities are contrary to the IRCP party line and the norms of the IRCP 'Party Statute', may be dissolved on the basis of a decision preceded by an investigation by the IRCP Central Party Control Commission. The last, seventh principle of Democratic Centralism, which is the principle of collegiality in decision - making, has a particularly important application in every IRCP Basic Party Commune and reinforces the concept of party leadership from 'Concentric Construction of the IRCP party' in the Central Party Activists (Hard Core Party Seniors), from Secretariat of the Central Revolutionary Committee where this IRCP party leadership is collectively represented. It means that IRCP party decisions cannot be taken alone, and that the entire statutory collective should participate in them. However, collegiality does not remove individual responsibility for the decisions made and their implementation, it only allows for the adoption of more correct resolutions. An inseparable element of the principle of collegiality the duties imposed on all party authorities to work in a permanent and close relationship with the Central Party Activists (Hard Core Party Seniors), to use the consultation method, to systematically inform IRCP party members about important current issues and resolutions, as well as the obligation to scrupulously examine propositions and postulates addressed to them by ordinary IRCP party members, and to inform interested IRCP party bodies about the way of settling these propositions and postulates. The principle of collegiality in decision - making in the work of the IRCP, means not only team discussions and team adoption of resolutions by the authorities of the IRCP party organization of a given level authorized by the 'Party Statute'. This principle also means that conditions must be created for the active participation of all members of the IRCP party in decision - making and in the discussion and resolution of the essential problems and tasks of the revolutionary struggle. For this purpose, correct and reliable information about the current situation is necessary, which can be assessed and reported objectively only through collegiality, i.e. in a joint discussion presenting every point of view. Ideological, political and organizational unity as features of Democratic Centralism lie at the foundation of the sources of strength and effectiveness of the IRCP party.

9) The 'It is Right to Rebel' is a concept that assumes the active attitude of the members of the IRCP party in agitating the entire society and persuading to active resistance and breaking the decay or passive attitude of society under the yoke of capitalist exploitation and oppression. This is a reference to Mao Tse Tung's statement: 'Marxism comprises many principles, but in the final analysis they can all be brought back to a single sentence: it is right to rebel' (Mao Tse Tung, 1939)

The revolutionary position and rebellious attitude held by the IRCP in the class struggle is to take this approach communists brought up in the IRCP party were tenacious and fierce in the revolutionary struggle, they must be faithful to the revolutionary cause of the working class and must lead a principled struggle against all kinds of oppression and exploitation, not afraid of protests, clashes with the ruling classes, and express their opinion and organize rebels. The right to rebel - this must be the fundamental right and task in the struggle of all revolutionary communists of the IRCP. According to this principle, the conduct of the revolutionary struggle is also carried out by organized tasks aimed at exacerbating, and sharpening the class struggle in capitalist society and by skillfully agitating and inciting, directly or indirectly to rebels and revolts of the social classes that are oppressed and exploited. This principle assumes the popularization and organization of all forms of protest by society and the influencing of public opinion by means of propaganda in order to rebel groups and social strata against the capitalist system. The principle 'It is Right to Rebel' tells us about the purposefulness and legitimacy of the idea of protest and rebellion, which the IRCP party proclaims and to which it agitates and supports. Any protest and resistance against capitalist exploitation and oppression, including the use of revolutionary violence in a prudent and deliberate manner, supported by higher revolutionary goals, is justified, but also allows in the revolutionary struggle through the practical application of the principles of the 'Civil People's War' to unleash hope, courage and creativity in the masses of the people and to establish more firmly and firmly the resistance of the popular masses in the organized revolutionary struggles for the overthrow of the capitalist world order.

10) 'Three Class Alliance and United Front' is a concept of the political - organizational principle of the party as an organized vanguard of the international working class and the world's popular masses and the most progressive people among its class allies and these masses. This is the principle of the alliance of the three main progressive social classes: the working proletariat, the peasantry (rural - agricultural social classes) and the progressive intelligentsia. This principle is expressed with the graphic party symbol (Graphic diagram 2.). The fundamental issue in the practical application of the 'Three Class Alliance and United Front' principle is the ruthless leadership of the IRCP party, which must retain the role of a revolutionary vanguard and leader with the characteristics of independence and initiative. The practical commitment to creating and leading a united fighting front according to the principle of the 'Three Class Alliance and United Front' is to use all the social forces of a combination of legal and illegal 'Civil People's War' tactics against the enemy. Principle 'Three Class Alliance and United Front' is carried out with the successive and gradual expansion of the influence of revolutionary tendencies to the working class society and the principle 'It is Right to Rebel' in order to isolate those social classes that are hostile to the revolution and to agitate the broad masses as much as possible for the cause of the revolution. The purpose of the practical application of the 'Three Class Alliance and United Front' principle is to obtain the forces of middle elements from the class structure of the society in a limited alliance with the IRCP so as to skillfully isolate all enemies and their supporters for an effective class struggle. The 'Three Class Alliance and United Front' principle is deeply related to the IRCP International Revolutionary Strategy and following IRCP Central, National and Regional Revolutionary Plans from relevant IRCP Revolutionary Committees, where a clear and repeatable (depending on changing objective conditions) class analysis is carried out. This principle 'Three Class Alliance and United Front' emphasizes the essential importance in the fight for the victory of the revolution of correct cooperation with the proper allies of the working class. Gaining the right allies for the united front of the fight, is a condition for organizing an extended political army of revolution with allied forces capable of joint cooperation and overthrowing the capitalist system in their socio - political strength.

Red zones can be bourgeois institutions, authorities or larger zones such as specific communities or social classes as bourgeois and capitalist trusts and corporation bodies, such as a landlords community as example.

Four Checks and Four Improvements - Practice based on the Maoist tradition and used during the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution by the Chinese Communist Party consist of 'Three Checks and Three Improvements' enriched with a fourth check and improvement (security issues of the party). Is conducted by IRCP periodically, at least once a year. It consists of checking and improvements of the work in the following areas: ideological, security, class origin and style of work. Practically it is work on several sessions by the IRCP Control Party Central Commission and control of chosen IRCP Basic Party Commune and other IRCP party instances and structures by the IRCP Central Party Control Commission.

Check Ideology - It is a test of the correctness of the ideology that the party uses with the totality of Internationalist Universalism and also checks all of IRCP Internal Training - Candidate Courses and the IRCP Periodic Party Training, conducts a systematic and continuous struggle against all manifestations of distortions against communist morality so that they always remain vanguard revolutionary fighters.

Check Security Issues - It is checking on security and safety issues against spies, infiltrators, possible of connecting agents and alien and hostile elements to proletarian class background, provocations of class enemies and other security risks.

Check Class Origin - It is checking class origin and degree of class structure of IRCP party members. The IRCP due to its revolutionary style of work must maintain an eminently proletarian character as implementing the principle of the 'Three Class Alliance and United Front' and must remain a class structure with at least two - thirds of its members drawn from the working class, workers. The IRCP does not see the quality of membership candidates solely on their working - class status. Working status is important, and working - proletarian origin is originally that is an important feature of the upbringing of future fighters for socialism. An equally important feature, and perhaps more important, is the enthusiasm and willingness to learn and study in order to change and raise one's class awareness. The class character of the IRCP party members is important in the dimension in which a given member presents his ideological and political level and communist morality, and it is in this dimension, and not only the dimension of class origin, that the 'Aim High' principle is fulfilled.

Check Style of Work - It is checking whether (and to what extent), all the 'Ten Principles of the IRCP Vanguard Communist Party' are maintained, how they interact with the directions of principles 'Study - Agitate - Organize' and 'Additional Revolutionary Principles'.

Internationalist Universalism - The theory based on a historical analysis of the development of the international communist movement and combined the most useful and progressive trends from the history of the international revolutionary communist struggle. Internationalist Universalism is consist of five ideologies as follow: Marxism - Leninism - Maoism, Juche Philosophy and Songun Politics, Gonzalo Thought, Anti - Revisionist and Anti - Imperialism. The best methods and rules of the experience of the revolutionary struggle is taken and enriched, expanded to a more effective way.

Internationalist Universalism is the Marxism of the era of Global Imperialism and is its development into a new, fourth, higher stage of dialectical development. Internationalist Universalism has an exceptionally militant and exceptionally revolutionary character, because it concentrates and synthesizes the most progressive and useful methods of revolutionary struggle, that have been developed by historical experience from the beginning of the rise of Marxism through Leninism and Maoism, as well as the next third stage of development which was the rise of Gonzalo Thought and experiences of the Juche idea with Songun politics as they having universal values and see the Juche idea and Songun politics as applicable outside the Democratic People's Republic of Korea for achieve victories in the international class struggle. The values of the Juche philosophy are universal. The world proletariat, the working masses of the whole world, guided by the Juche philosophy, can become conscious creators and masters of their destiny. Thus, the Juche idea in Internationalist Universalism is a specific moderator and a concept, that helps to raise a steadfast communist - a revolutionary, with an iron will shaped by a high degree of independence, consciousness and creativity. The Juche idea in Internationalist Universalism works in order to comprehensively prepared to fight IRCP party members, for the liberation of the international proletariat. Gonzalo Thought like the Juche idea, also brought a new dialectical development of Marxism - Leninism - Maoism, and the success of the methods of revolutionary struggle of the Communist Party of Peru carry universal values that can be used in the struggle on the international arena. All of this is collected with systematizing and developing into Internationalist Universalism.

Internationalist Universalism is a comprehensive theory of the development of the most progressive and revolutionary trends and tendencies of the international communist movement, enriched with new solutions and methods corresponding to the revolutionary struggle of the 21st century. Internationalist Universalism is the answer to the worldwide offensive of the imperialist forces and is the ideological guideline of the IRCP, combines radical and revolutionary, Marxism - Leninism - Maoism, anti - imperialism and Juche philosophy, using the positive, historical experiences of the international communist movement and an anti - revisionist approach with creative use at the internationalist level, in the fight for liberation of the world proletariat. In this sense, Internationalist Universalism is a dialectical synthesis of all revolutionary and progressive trends in the history of the international communist movement - which through practical experience and positive achievements - have proven their effectiveness. It is an attempt to gather these experiences and systematize them into one theory, coherent and useful for the struggle of the international proletariat, maintaining their separateness and originality, and only using their usefulness and strength in one functional whole, and on their basis developing new directions under the creative force of the ideological foundations of Marxism - Leninism - Maoism and the Juche Philosophy with Songun politics and Gonzalo Thought, respecting the principles of anti - imperialism and anti - revisionism.

Therefore, Internationalist Universalism is based and led on 5 the most progressive ideologies and trends from the international communist movement which are Marxism - Leninism - Maoism, Juche philosophy with Songun politics, Gonzalo Thought , Anti - Imperialist and Anti - Revisionist approach.

Internationalist Universalism collected the best experience of the practice and theory of the revolutionary struggle and developed them into a compact and unified system of methods and principles which are described in the 'Ten Principles of the IRCP Vanguard Communist Party' as follows: 'Aim High', 'Mass Line and Mass Tied', 'Two Lines Struggle and Unanimity', 'Do - or - Die', 'Ideology and Politics First', 'Concentric Construction of the party', 'Anti - Revisionist and Anti - Imperialist Approach', 'Democratic Centralism', 'It is Right to Rebel' and 'Three Class Alliance and United Front'. Work of These principles in the IRCP party regarding to the Internationalist Universalism is enhanced, strengthened and supported by directions under additional rules as 'Additional Revolutionary Concepts' as follows: The concept of constant revolutionary vigilance, The concept of conspiracy style of work, The concept of limited trust in building alliances, The concept of build construction of the IRCP party on international, and national - territorial (regional - locally), and The concept of build and kept the monolithic ideological system of the IRCP party.

Internationalist Universalism is developed and expanded the following theories and concepts: Mass Line - clarifying and concretizing the processes of the party line 'From the Masses, To the Masses', Two Lines Struggle - expanded and developed in a theoretical explanation of how it works and in practical operation in the revolutionary communist party of 21st age, Democratic Centralism - developed and linked more closely to democracy and intra - paternal collegiality of the party activities, The Concentric Construction of the party - developed in the new concept of the organizational structure of the revolutionary party build as a fortress in the conditions of the revolutionary struggle in European countries , Peoples Civil War - A comprehensive theory that is a synthesis and development of improved methods and methods of civil revolutionary struggle of IRCP members in the conditions of European countries with a developed capitalist system, using legal, semi - legal and underground means while collecting the experience of revolutionary struggles and national uprisings around the world. Contains the concept of universal offensive - defensive combat in stages in the theory of 'Two Tactics of One Revolutionary Strategy'.

Internationalist Universalism is also enriched by the idea of German communist (Karl Liebknecht) which is: 'Study - Agitate - Organize' and this idea is functioning as binds all revolutionary principles of the vanguard party and groups them in mutually complementary correlations (direct and indirect correlations and interactions) in all IRCP party activities.

Commandism - Is the practice of standing ahead of the masses politically and commanding them to 'catch up'. To act in a commandist manner is to forget about the first principle, 'from the masses to the masses', which lead a truly communist party to treat the masses as if they have nothing to teach us. This is the self - isolating practice, but one that is practiced by much on the left in imperialist countries. while the 'Mass Line' involves raising the political level of the masses, this is done by the struggle, not through sloganeering or demanding that the masses politicize.

Tailism - Is a method of practice by which revolutionaries only allow themselves to follow the most advanced ideas of the masses, never moving beyond these ideas nor putting forward any revolutionary politics; revolutionaries tail the masses. Some use the 'Mass Line' as a means of excusing this type of practice, saying that the 'Mass Line' means that we have to go to the masses and meet the masses where they are at politically - to learn from them. while this is true, it is only half of the 'Mass Line': because revolutionaries are also supposed to raise the political level of the masses in the process of struggle, and this can only be done if revolutionaries openly put forward a revolutionary political program. the 'Mass Line' is intended to raise the level of the masses and connect them with revolutionary struggle, not serve as an excuse for the revolutionaries to hide their politics.

The 'internal party zone of struggle' - A concept of Two Lines Struggle explains an subjective phenomenon of clash of views and opinions within the IRCP party. This zone is under impact and influences from outside the party, but its border is the so - called dividing line between the two zones: outer (outside the party) and inner (inside the party). In the 'internal party zone of struggle', the party political line is concretized with the help of the Mass Line principle and corrected in accordance with Internationalist Universalism

The 'external party zone of struggle' - A concept of Two Lines Struggle explaining an objective phenomenon of influences and effects of party politics and activities relative to the class struggle and the formation and clashes of opinions, views and tendencies outside the party in bourgeois society and the recurring resonance with impact on the party to the 'internal party zone of struggle'.

The 'concept of constant revolutionary vigilance' - In this term to be vigilant, means to every member of the IRCP party to accelerate the World Proletarian Revolution with militancy revolutionary activity, to strengthen the IRCP party and to be ideologically uncompromising. Revolutionary vigilance is constantly raised by raising the state of ideological training of party members. A constant increase in the revolutionary vigilance of IRCP party members is necessary for the forging of weapons in the fight against capitalism, and especially in an active attitude to combat manifestations of all kinds of revisionism and anti - imperialist activity by IRCP party members.

The issue of party purity and vigilance is the primary concern of IRCP party leaders. The strength of a party depends primarily on the quality of party members. The purity of party ranks and vigilance are two issues that are inextricably linked. The issue of the purity of the party ranks and revolutionary vigilance in every party activity is the basic element that guarantees the victorious implementation of party policy, and the implementation of the guidelines of Internationalist Universalism.

To be vigilant, as Stalin teaches, does not mean to suspect everyone of being an enemy. To be vigilant means to believe people, and at the same time to systematically control the implementation of party tasks by them, to check them in their daily work.

Believe but verify - this is the Stalinist vigilance that is instilled in the activities of the IRCP party.

The 'concept of conspiracy style of work' - Is expressed in personal data protection and nicknames for all party members for security purposes. It is a rule that protects all IRCP party members from oppression and attacks by enemies of the revolution by not disclosing information about their personal details (the principle of using a party nickname of their own choosing), and the reservation of address data for the location of IRCP party structures and the establishment of secure contact forms (independent and secure email), that are not subject to verification in order to disclose contact office. This principle also assumes a limited knowledge of contact details in communication between party members requiring, in order to contact lower structures with higher conspiratorial forms. It also expressed of use conspirational methods to protect all IRCP party organizational bodies by the 'Concentric Construction of the party'.

The 'concept of limited trust in building alliances' - It is the method of limited trust between the IRCP party and other groups, organizations and political parties for security reasons. This is the principle of insurance in the organization of a limited alliance with other organizations with which he wants and can cooperate. It consists of the concentration of one's own forces and initiative, and a constant vigilant approach in the event of an ally's betrayal, especially in the case of a possible alliance with those forces that have a two - class character and are unstable

The 'concept of build construction of the IRCP party on international, and national - territorial (regional - locally)' - This method enables IRCP party for the process of worldwide expansion and work with organizing class struggle on international scale. These principles based on the construction by the IRCP National Revolutionary Committees of a united struggle front based on the three basis class alliance of workers, peasants (farmers) and progressive intelligentsia which are in every country of the world. The united internationalist struggle front also includes other progressive and allied classes and social strata (for example, the unemployed) who are united by a common struggle program under the leadership of the IRCP. This program of struggle, which is a political program, must be consistent with the general internationalist program of struggle under the leadership of the forces of the international proletariat and in this term the principle is fulfilled by activities of national and regional committees of the IRCP party.

The 'concept of build and keeping the monolithic ideological system of the IRCP party' - It is method that enables IRCP party to be fully coherent and unity of every party structure, and every party ranks. This is the principle of constantly strengthening and testing the level of unity, solidity and durability of the party's organizational structures at central, national and territorial. This principle is one of the working directions of the IRCP Central Party Control Commission.
